O'CONNOR'S MATE SLIPS FROM POLICE

La Porte in the Very Grasp of Milwaukee Police, Eludes Them.

Milwaukee—James La Porte, companion of Tommy O'Connor in his sensational escape from the county jail in Chicago, with Eddie Darrow, last December, four days before O'Connor was to have been hanged, slipped from the fingers of the local police it was revealed in as neat a game of wits as has been played upon local sleuths.

With LaPorte in his escape is believed to have been Eddie Darrow, the second member of the much wanted trio.

The pair was surrounded in a west side apartment building occupied by Mrs. Thomas Novilla and her two children. With them were six companions. Three of these six are wanted by Chicago police for offenses which make them liable to be sentenced to the state penitentiary and one of them is said to be La Porte's sweetheart.

The crux of the game of wits came when the friends of the wanted pair sacrificed themselves to help him escape and submitted to arrest, while the men believed to be Darrow and La Porte slipped from the police net and escaped.

Delicately today were hot on the trail of the men they and within their grasp for a moment, but reports are to the effect that the trail is growing colder.

Four are being held. James Gillespie, known to the Chicago police as a member of the Tommy O'Connor gang; his mother, Mrs. Lillian Olt; his wife, Mrs. Margaret Gillespie and his sister, Mrs. Corinne Weber who also is said to be the sweetheart of La Porte.

Resthaven Given A Clean Bill

Waukesha, Wis.—Col. W. F. Lorenz, professor of mental and nervous diseases at the University of Wisconsin, medical school, declared that physicians and heads of Rest Haven hospital were absolutely blameless in the deaths of three former service men who died recently a short time after injections of a serum had been administered.

Col. Lorenz, who made a special investigation into the deaths of the patients at the request of Gov. Blaine, asserted at the inquest before a coroner's jury here today that the serum was a proper drug to administer, and that there was every care and precaution had been taken by the physicians who treated the patients.

INVESTIGATION NOT IN HENRY JOHNSON'S DEPARTMENT

Madison—Henry Johnson, state treasurer, explained today that his department is entirely separate from that of the state treasury agent. He said that he felt an explanation necessary because of statements that there are irregularities in the office of the state treasury agent.

"The name 'state treasury agent' seems to be confusing," the state treasurer said. "It should be 'state treasurer's license agent.' The state treasury department has no supervision over this agent, merely issuing official receipts for money that is paid by him to the state treasurer."

GREED FOR DIAMONDS AND FURS CURSE OF THE TIMES

New York—"Greed for diamonds and furs is the curse of the times," Judge Gibbs of Bronx county court, declared in suspending sentence on Paul Zukor, millinery dealer, who pleaded guilty to receiving stolen goods.

"Modern women, yes, a great majority of them," he said, "are using the dollar mark to stretch their hands into jail. Just as long as men of the family bring home the money, no questions are asked. The trouble with the man of today is that he is too eager to make money to supply his wife or daughter with diamonds and furs. He is bound to get it, somehow—honestly, or by criminal methods."

TELL HOUSEWIVES
HOW TO SAVE GAS

American Gas Association Lists
Advice for Consumers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York.—A list of hints for general housewives has been compiled by the American Gas Association, which has been investigating the ways manufactured gas is used in the home.

As a result of the investigation, the association has come to the conclusion that carelessness and thoughtlessness are the chief causes for waste and that hundreds of thousands of dollars are saved yearly if household commanders would practice economy.

The association reported that "some people still insist upon using the gas range to heat the kitchen and the living room and then a family goes to Palm Beach or Europe and forgets to turn off the light or other appliances. The engineers also discovered that careless servants who rule the roost in the kitchen use gas as a prodigal that would shame the lady of the house were she to investigate conditions for herself."

As an example of deliberate waste, the association points to the fact that the old-fashioned, open-flame burners are still being used by many in preference to the efficient modern mantle light, although the former consumes four to five times as much gas as the latter.

Here Are Warnings.
The list of hints includes these warnings:
"Don't use the gas burners on ranges when the smaller burners serve the same purpose."
"Don't heat a kettleful of water when a quart will do."
"Don't permit the gas flame to overlap the sides of cooking utensils. Turn out the gas when you don't need it—matches are cheaper than gas."

"It takes no more gas to cook 12 potatoes than it does to cook six. Turn out the gas before, not after, taking a cooking utensil off the range."
"You cannot raise the temperature of water above 212 degrees Fahrenheit by boiling it; therefore, once the pot starts to boil on the range, reduce the flame."

"Plan your cooking so as to make one burner or one oven cook more than one article of food at the same time."
"Give thought to the selection of proper utensils; flat bottom utensils with a base broader than the gas flame are fuel savers."

"Keep flame tips on range and water heater burners about 1/2 to 3/4 of an inch long. A long, yellow, smoky flame is very wasteful; a small, blue flame is much hotter and requires less gas."
"Keep the copper coils on your water heater bright and clean. See that the door fits closely when shut."

"Do not use a gas mantle after it has been broken."
"Adjust burners so that they are steady and do not hiss."
"Keep burners of gas range clean by washing them in boiling water and soda at least once a month and have them dry before using."

CAUGHT BY POLICE
RED HANDED AT STILL

things, recipes for the manufacture of dandelion wine, rhubarb wine and "home beverage."

On another page various dates are listed, all the words "2 gallons," "3 gallons," "7 gallons" opposite them. The earliest date on the record is Feb. 7, and from there it runs to March 11, shipping only a few dollars' worth of the data by police cases the belief that the big still has turned out about 60 gallons since Feb. 7, production running as high as seven gallons on some days.

Record of Expenses.
On other pages, police found figures showing various expenses, there being several items marked "regular $50," "small $250," "oil, $30" and "wicks."

Other figures indicate "wicks" alone, that Ellis has been doing a land-office business in the sale of his product despite his sentence that he could not sell any of it. There are items such as "Feb. 12, 1921," March 11, 1921," which the authorities believe constitute his receipts.

"The book shows he has been getting about $250 a quart," said Chief Charles Newman. "The receipts vary from $10 to $30 a day."

Raid a Surprise.
The raid was a surprise to Ellis, who had apparently given no thought to police intervention. He was alone in the house at the time, his wife being down town and his children in bed. The still was in full operation with the clear finished product trickling into a 10-gallon crock.

"Well, I guess you've got me right," Ellis smiled at the police, "I don't care so much for myself as I do for my family."

Ellis is a carpenter by trade. He says he has told police he wished no had heeded the advice of his wife, who protested strongly when he set up the still.

BOYS SAVE MONEY FOR ROTARY CAMP.
If plans of the Rotary club do not go amiss there will be a much larger number at 1922 Rotarian camp than the past two seasons. The camp is being held at the Janesville boys' camp and boys are being signed up.

Each boy going is asked to start a definite program of saving, putting away 50 cents a week toward the camp. The boys are required to open a bank account and a check is to be made by Rotary members. In this way they will put aside $2.50 a week. If they do not wish to, they will have acquired the knack of saving for a definite object.

Banker Tells
Training School
About Banking

BY JOSEPHINE NELSON
Graduate of Beloit High School

A general explanation of correct banking was given by Mr. E. J. Haumerson, cashier of the Merchants and Savings Bank, to the students of the Rock County Training School Thursday morning.

A discussion of the kinds of banks was first given. There are federal reserve banks, private banks, trust companies, state banks, national banks, etc. The bank must be organized and controlled by private individuals. Private banks are forbidden by Wisconsin state law.

Trust companies are organized under the laws of the state. Trust companies often serve as guardians and executors of property left through wills. National and state banks are very much alike. National banks are under the rules and regulations of the United States government.

Mr. Haumerson explained fully how to open an account. The person wishing to make his first deposit should go to an officer of the bank for information and for giving necessary information to the bank. The second deposit is made to a teller after the depositor has made out a deposit slip. This should be made for future use by the bank and the individual. Many people fail to make out deposit slips.

Many people understand how to use their checks payable to others but they do not understand how to draw money for their own use. Mr. Haumerson explained about making out checks payable to "Cash," etc.

"If you fill out checks properly you will be a friend of the banker," stated Mr. Haumerson. This includes filling out the entire check, the complete stub, and then endorsing it on the left-hand end of the reverse side of the check. Many people do not endorse checks in the right place on the back of the check. Checks are cashed if endorsed in a different manner, but if endorsed properly, it saves a great deal of time for the clerks at the bank.

Stubs should be filled out before making out a check or you may forget to do it. The stubs furnish an individual a record of his bank account.

The liabilities and resources of a bank must balance. The bank must publish statements from time to time as required by law. The bookkeeping is now largely done by machines which, if correctly operated, furnish absolutely correct figures. The banks are frequently inspected by bank officials so their accounts must be correct to a cent.

Mr. Haumerson would advise anyone to make connections with a bank for business purposes, as well as for personal conveniences.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

George, a young man, was to work at the house of Sylvia, a rich man's daughter. Sylvia is a very beautiful girl, and George is a very handsome young man. They are both very intelligent and very kind. George is a very good worker, and Sylvia is a very good hostess. They are both very much in love with each other.

"Here's to the blushing bride!"

"What luck of taste! But how much greater joy could I have than this?"

"I am sure," said George, "that you will find this a most interesting and profitable experience."

For George dinner was chiefly a sea of blue and white, and Sylvia's face was a picture of joy.

"Tinker Bob" Stories

by Carlyle H. Holcomb

IN THE HUNTER'S PIT

Tinker Bob was so curious to know what happened to Mr. Lion that he too walked around the clump of bushes a few times, but could find no way of entrance. He heard sounds that seemed like there must be a struggle in the midst of the bushes.

Presently there was a sound from behind and he looked about to see another Lion facing him. But this fellow had a chain about his neck, and hanging onto the end of the chain was a native Hunter. What if it meant he could not understand.

"Put on another record, Dolly!"

And almost before he had realized it Betty had taken her away, and the evening's opportunities had closed.

For him the house became like a room at night out of which the only lamp has been carried.

The others drifted away. George tried to read in the library. His uneasiness, his anger, held him from books. When at last he went upstairs he found everything was as usual, but moving in the hall opposite his room he saw a figure in a dressing gown.

"Daisy!" he called, softly. The other waited sullenly.

"What you up to?" George asked.

"Thought I'd explore downstairs for a book. Couldn't sleep. Nothing in my room worth bothering with."

George smiled, the memory of Blodgett's admirable behaviour crowding his mind. What better time than now to let his anger dictate to him, as it had done that day in his office?

"Come in for a minute," he proposed to Daisy, and opened his door.

Mr. Lion was taken out of the pit and away.

asked: "What in the world does all of this mean?"

The Hunter laughed. "I got him, didn't I?"

"Got him!" exclaimed Tinker Bob. "I don't see him anywhere. I don't think anyone has him."

"Oh, my little friend, you don't understand."

and I'll show you I have this fellow where he can't get out. He took the Lion that he had chained and tied him to a tree, then called some of his helpers.

They came quickly and began to pull away the bushes into which Mr. Lion had jumped. When they were cleared away Tinker Bob and the Hunter went to the center of the clump of bushes to see Mr. Lion in the midst of a deep pit in which he had been trapped. He was busy eating the remains of a goat that had been placed there for him. That is the thing he wanted in the air.

Now when he saw the Hunter he began to plan how he would get out. He tried to jump out as he had jumped in but it was useless to try for he couldn't get out. When he discovered that he could not escape he began to whine, and Tinker Bob thought of his little children. How sorry they would be if their father never came back. He wanted to see the children too.

"His high will sell for so much on the market," said the Hunter.

By this time Tinker Bob knew that the Hunter intended to kill Mr. Lion and sell his hide. He had used the same Lion to answer the roar. It was not fair, and Tinker Bob would not allow his newly found friend to be killed.

"Bring me my gun," said the Hunter. "We might as well fix him first as last."

When the natives ran for the gun Tinker Bob tapped the Stone Of Knowledge and Mr. Lion was taken out of the pit and away. And when

Dollar Each for Hauling Autos from a Quagmire

Getting a dollar for hauling out travelers whose autos were stuck in the mud at the crossing of the Northwestern road just north of the track on the St. Anthony road at Koshkonong station was the job of one man there. ly good roads considering the weather, and the sunshine and wind of the last three days put many of the worst pieces in passable condition. Some of the cross roads and those not traveled are quagmires. This is true especially where the roads pass through woods or heavy shade.

Dinner Stories

Al Jennings, a commercialized and reformed bandit, sought the police recently, thus reversing earlier precedent. He had lost $150 at the hands of a thief who had gone through his room during a brief absence from a Twelfth street hotel.

Jennings' great reputation of a former day for nerve and a quick draw does not intimidate those who in this modern day still seek other "fists" for money. Jennings was "stuck up" on a New York street, a dark street.

"You shouldn't," remonstrated Jennings, seeking to cultivate a spirit of fraternity. "I'm Al Jennings of Oklahoma."

"I'm Woodrow Wilson," answered the robber. "A little higher, please."

Leslie had always been very much afraid of dogs.

One day, after a struggle to get him to pass a large dog on the corner, his mother scolded him for the unnecessary fear.

"Well," was his reply. "You'd be afraid of dogs if you were as low down as I am."

"What?" said the indignant old gentleman. "You want a tummy for my daughter? Why, she is only a few years ago that you were adding for me."

"Yes, sir," the young man replied. "But I don't intend to let that stand in the way. I hope I have sense enough to realize that a very bad golfer may make a fairly good father-in-law."

ANSWERED LETTERS

Jackie—If your hair becomes too oily before it is time for the regular shampoo, dust a little powdered orris root through it and let it remain for a few minutes while it absorbs some of the oil, after which give the hair a thorough shaking out in the fresh air—if that is possible.

Agnes C.—A mark left from a scold should not be a difficult thing to eradicate any more. Consult some doctor who specializes in skin treatment or go to any of the hospitals for advice. In this same way you can obtain advice regarding the crooked finger joint.

Auburn—You can regain that Auburn tint in your hair by using henna, which should always be followed by an astringent. With the palm of the hand, begin at the base of the throat and make an upward stroke to the end of the chin. The motion is somewhat like ironing. Repeat it many times until all the muscles have been thoroughly exercised. The astringent following this may be merely an ice rub or any reliable mixture for contracting and hardening the skin.

Albany Proud of Litel, Leading Man in "Irene," Holder of 2 War Crosses

Possessor of two French war crosses, the leading man in the original company of "Irene" for 18 months, and now playing a long engagement at the Park theatre in Manchester, N. H.—it is little wonder that the people of Albany, N. Y., are proud of their own John B. Litel. Already a great success in his few years before the footlights, hundreds of Green and Rock county people are following him in his theatrical career and are confident he will become an even more popular star.

The home folks never thought when they saw "Jack" playing marbles and giving recitations in the schools in little Albany that some day their little Albany star would become a nationally known star of the legitimate stage with his name blazing forth in the big signs of the theatrical world as the leading attraction of a production. But that's what "Jack" has done—the righteous gratification of all his old home town in Green county.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON.
Letters May Be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I just now do not think a girl should be before receiving attention from young men.

Is a man of 30 too old to have a sweetheart of 20?

In the office where I am employed I am seated in a desk from which it is most inconvenient to rise. Is an out-of-town man greets me, is it right for me to remain seated?

In passing through doors of public buildings, when a gentleman holds the door open for a lady to pass, should she say "Thank you"?

There is a young man here in this city who seems to admire me, but only at a distance. When near me he is so shy. What can I say or do to make him seem more natural?

GRAY EYES.

1. When a girl is a junior at high school, she is old enough to attend school and neighborhood parties with boys. By the time she is 18 she is old enough to go to theaters and dances which are not held at school.

2. Circumstances alter cases. As a rule a man of 30 is too old for a girl of 20. Many girls of 20, however, have married men of 30 and been very happy. Use your own judgment in such a matter.

It is not proper to rise when a man greets you unless he is elderly or necessarily indicates, so that another spoiled pair may be pleased.

Thus you have always clean curtains, you never have more than one pair to wash at a time and you don't have that ugly spectacle of a curtainless house for three or four days while the curtains are laundering.

The only hitch in this plan is that your windows may not all be the same length. In this case you would have to have all the curtains made for the longest window, and then when they were used on the shorter windows you could turn over an extra fold and baste it at the top.

Or you could have two extra pairs, one for the short windows and one for the longer ones. Either way would work satisfactorily.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a boy for a year. He is very much respected and my parents approve of him. Now he is working in a distant city. He comes to see me whenever he can, which isn't very often.

The other night, as I was so lonely, I had another date. Could you tell me any way I could tell him so that it won't hurt his feelings? I don't believe he would get angry, but he is tender-hearted and I would like to know some way to convince him I don't think anything less of him?

WOMAN.

Simply mention in your letter that you have been out with the other young man. Do not try to make explanations or to convince him that your regard for him has not diminished. The less importance you place on the matter, the less he will be hurt.

COEDS TO REVIVE ANCIENT STYLES?

Godey's Lady's Book in Demand at Chicago University Library.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago—Flashy colored hosiery with open work; smooth fitting waists that outline the figure from throat to hips; gloves to the elbows; side button shoes pointed and best tooled; immense poke bonnets; deer skin bodices; dresses of myrtle green silk, camel's hair, satin and velvet. Such were the styles of half a century ago that coeds of the University of Chicago are showing symptoms of reviving.

This apparent renaissance is indicated by the steadily increasing demand at the University library for Godey's Lady's Book and Magazine, a periodical that portrayed mid-century styles more than fifty years from 1832. So strongly do the co-ed crave a glance at the early tinted color plates of frocks and gowns that were worn in the middle of the last century that the library is seeking additional copies of the "Lady's Book" to meet the demand.

Many things the co-eds are learning from their "Lady's Book" study: styles that they believed were ultra modern, they find, were common to their grandmothers.

Hats, gowns, shoes, hose, gloves, bustles, bodices, cloaks, parasols, sashes, ribbons and shawls—all are in the "Lady's Book." Every article of a woman's apparel are there—except lingerie. The co-eds if they are interested in learning what the belles of fifty years ago wore beneath their sweeping gowns, must look elsewhere. Mr. Godey's otherwise excellent periodical is strangely silent in this regard in marked contrast with present day fashion magazines.

Ears, the co-eds find, were free of a lotion that consisted of carbolic acid and several other ingredients which I cannot remember.

A READER.

Glycerine, one ounce; castor oil, two ounces; carbolic acid, 50 drops.

THIS IS THE MONTH—

To bid old winter goodbye.

To plant sweet peas on the 17th.

To start again the season's routine.

To plant peas, lettuce, beets and parsnips.

To guard the new chicks from getting chilled.

To spray currants, gooseberries and raspberries with copper-sulphur solution.

To welcome the newcomers.

This month and next goes the greatest additions to flocks and herds.

To figure up your income tax.

But the government doesn't pay you if it was all outgo instead.

To test seed corn and it pays just as well to test oats, clover and other important crop seeds.

To make a final survey of spring's needs. The advertising columns of this paper can be made a real help.

To sow clover seed. The freezing and thawing will cover it perfectly. A bushel to six or eight acres is right.

To set out strawberry plants just as early as the frost goes out of the ground. They will get a good start before dry weather.

To go over the apary and examine each hive for honey stores and missing queens. Also to clean out dead bees, and put all in shape for the nectar flow.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a boy for a year. He is very much respected and my parents approve of him. Now he is working in a distant city. He comes to see me whenever he can, which isn't very often.

The other night, as I was so lonely, I had another date. Could you tell me any way I could tell him so that it won't hurt his feelings? I don't believe he would get angry, but he is tender-hearted and I would like to know some way to convince him I don't think anything less of him?

WOMAN.

Simply mention in your letter that you have been out with the other young man. Do not try to make explanations or to convince him that your regard for him has not diminished. The less importance you place on the matter, the less he will be hurt.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: What would you recommend for a hand lotion? Some time ago I read in your column and leave the bathroom looking like a war relic of Hun ferocity. He

"Gee whiz! I needa shave!"

I counted sixteen hairs last night. My man is sure an awful sight but this old boy with his "em right ly "worn." Mostly they were adorned with jewelry, but in any case they were entirely visible.

The "Lady's Book" for 1832, a volume that is finding particular favor with the co-eds, remarks at some length on every article of outer apparel and the equipment necessary to add to the wardrobe of that day. Of winter bonnets, for example, it says:

"Immense poke bonnets of plush, lined with a contrasting color, have a fascian bow and bird at one side."

Other style comments are:

"One of the latest novelties (1832) is the bodices of unglazed or deer skin either plain or embroidered, perfectly, too perfectly, moulding the figure. Many ladies have their monograms embroidered upon the left side of the bodice."

"The new spring costumes have long, smooth fitting waists that outline the figure from throat to hips where they are met by full paniers of shawl drapery. The general effect is of long, slender waists and large hips."

"Gloves are longer than ever. They are not tight fitting all the way down the arm."

Colored hosiery continues popular. Black silk stockings are the most stylish. Terra cotta and rose are the new shades, others are very dark, almost cardinal and brighter turkey red, porcelain blue, tan, bronze and dark green. Lace work, open designs and hand embroidery are the ornaments for hose.

Large, almost sun umbrellas, are the vogue. They have simple, rustic handles, but there the simplicity ends. Covers are of the handkerchief, dress goods, even Scotch plaids, and are trimmed with flowers or ribbons.

"Side button boots are popular. Pointed and box toes, the extremely pointed toes are considered injurious to the feet and it would should be very long."

SALVATION ARMY STORES ARE BOON TO EMPTY POCKET

Chicago—The Salvation Army stores which have been institutions in Chicago for more than fifteen years, have solved the problem on the high price of being well dressed for thousands of families.

An entire outfit—hat, clothes, shoes, collar, ties and everything for $3.75. That's the price of duffing the garments of a tramp and taking on the raiment of a gentleman.

But the Army is not making a specialty of the tramp. There is many a family, man and his wife and his children, who patronize the industrial clothing store.

It's the easiest, quickest and cheapest way out.

You can get a good coat for 35 cents, a pair of trousers for 25 cents, a good vest for ten cents, a hat for as low as a dime, socks for 5 cents a pair, a necktie for a dime, and a real slick, clean, highly starched white collar thrown in to make the outfit complete.

You can get anything in the clothing line you want and the price is within reach. And if you happen to be without funds and in dire need of clothing, it's yours for the asking. The charge placed on the clothing by the Army is to cover overhead expenses, such as rent and for cleaning and renovating, for mending, for hauling, and for the meager salaries for the few aged or crippled persons in the store. The clothing is donated by more fortunate families.

ONE DESIGNER'S IDEA OF HOW TO USE TWO COLORS

Two colors in a frock are always effective when properly combined, but it is not often that the home needlewoman can combine two shades without giving away the fact that she is an amateur. This frock, designed for one of the large dress manufacturers, is gray and navy Canton crepe made in the coat dress style.

"I don't vary often get in front of the cutter bar when the mower is in gear, but this team is gentle."

"What in the world did they put a dagger sign on the bridge for? Why I crossed it with my tractor less than a week ago."

SECTIONAL MEETS COMMENCE WITH 72 SCHOOLS BATTLING

BULLETIN.
Janesville high school's basketball team departed for the Whitewater tourney with the cheering of the school body sounding in their ears. Principal George Bassford let the school off for a half hour to go to the depot and send the squad away with good luck yells.

Seventy-two high schools from all over the state commence Thursday in elimination tournaments to pick district champions who will compete for the "prep" school basketball title of the Badger state. Meets are on at Whitewater, Milwaukee, LaCrosse, Oshkosh, Rice, Pella, Superior and Eau Claire. Normal schools and at Stout institute.

Janesville is entered in the sectional meet at the Evansville, Milton, Union, Madison high, University high (Madison), Elkhorn, Lake Mills and Fall River.

The Blues departed for the classic Thursday afternoon and will continue afternoon and evening until Saturday night when the final battle will be staged. Coaches Kevner and McDonald accompanied the local lads.

Those representing Janesville are Austin, McCluskey, Clarke, Seaman, Dickerson, Dougherty, McDermott, Cranshaw and Mack.

Advance dope picks Bransville or Madison high to win.

And Extra Seats.
Special bleachers have been added at Whitewater Normal increasing the seating capacity to 700. Three hundred of these chairs have been placed over the main floor with sections given over to the visiting players and coaches.

The first place team will be awarded individual gold fobs and a plaque. Silver fobs go to the seconds and the winners of third will receive bronze fobs.

Monroe Is Defeated.
Platteville-Monroe high school lost the opening game at the district basketball tournament here to Richland Center, 18 to 14. Monticello, winner of the Beloit college invitation meet, surprised fans when they dropped to Platteville High, 25 to 10.

Union All Set.
Milton-Union high school has been practicing in the Milton college gymnasium this week to gain familiarity with a large floor. A delegation of local fans will accompany the team to the Quaker city. Union won second in the recent Milton college tournament.

LOCAL VOLLEY MEN FALL BEFORE MADISON

Madison volley ball players took revenge on Janesville "Y" men at the Capital city Wednesday night when all three local teams were defeated. The Bower city team lost 18 to 15. In a previous match, the locals were victors here. A third set will be played. The locals were entertained royally before the games.

Busy Man's Sport Page

FRANK SINCLAIR
Looking over the Coliseum rink here the other night, Kid Howard, ranked as one of the biggest boxing men of Chicago, commented upon the excellent facilities of the house. "With these conditions," he said, "Janesville should be one of the best clubs of the middle west."

The Chicago man suggested a big amateur boxing tourney for this city and offered his help to put it over. A similar suggestion has been received recently from Milwaukee. Some serious consideration is being given to the plan by the Janesville Elks Athletic club.

One thing stood out big at the fights here last week. That was the rim of dollar seats and the emptiness of the three's. There is serious talk of making a downward revision in the prices for the next show, which has to come. It is expected when a final check is made the local club will at least break even on the last scraps.

Withdrawal of Jefferson and Fort Atkinson from the Tri-county league to which they were recently admitted, means that Edgerton, Stoughton and Madison will form the nucleus of the loop. A chance for Janesville to get into the Tri-county circuit is now open. It would be an excellent thing for the city to join that wheel. The new Jefferson county league has the right dope in limiting player-members to home town talent for it will prohibit landing up.

Franklin Andrews, formerly of the Samson Tractors, sends word to the writer he is going to play ball this summer in the Iron Range league around Minnesota. It was hoped he would go with Stoughton. He has been training by chopping wood.

Articles of news for the Gazette's sport page are being collected. They must be in the office by 10 a. m. for publication the same day.

Fourteen nations, including the U. S., will compete for the Davis tennis cup this year.

N. T. Guernsey, New York swimmer for Yale, set a new international 66-foot plunge record in 15.3 seconds in Wesleyan university meet.

J. Subiolsky, Chicago, went into second in the singles of the A. E. C. pln meet, Toledo, with 692. There were no other changes.

"Baseball is Clean," Commissioner Landis told a southern crowd.

At Baseball Camps.—Nearly all the stars will shine in the baseball firmament again this season. Managers are starting to get some idea of what to expect from their men. Ruth, Fabor, Walter Johnson, Rommel, Alexander, Mails and Heilmann, to mention a few, show sufficient stuff to please their managers. A goodly crowd of youngsters is coming to the front. McMillan, a rookie, eclipsed Ruth Tuesday with two triples, one with the socks loaded. Brewer Rookers lost to St. Joe, 5-2. The White Sox lost to the Giants, 5-2.

The University of Southern California has barred Charley Paddock, speed runner, for all time for scholastic ineligibility.

With victories over Chicago, Minnesota, Illinois and Northwestern, the Badger swimmers take part in the conference meet Saturday.

Fight Talk.—Dave Shaded has slipped to meet Frankie Mitchell at Milwaukee, Mar. 27. Eddie McGearty took out a false tooth in the Oshkosh ring and tossed it to his second. A fan found it in his vest pocket when he reached home at Ironwood, Mich. Grab challenged Gene Tunney. Here's some more Dempsey bunk—his press agent says he will fight Carpenter in Europe. Joe Lynch, shaded Terry Martin at Boston (12).

"Big Ten" athletic directors meet in Chicago Thursday night to consider forming a hockey league.

OPEN SEASON'S BALL

Here is the first ball game of the season. Boys of the Adams school defeated the Jefferson team Tuesday, 20 to 10, at the fair grounds. The lineups were:
Jefferson: Summers, p; Meek, c; Nichols, 1b; Butler, 2b; Rudy, 3b; Waulde, cf; Davis, lf; E. Summers, rf; Schwegler, ss.
Adams: Soles, c; Ward, p; Dumphy, ss; Thurman, 1b; Rasmussen, 2b; VanPool, 3b; Turner, rf; Ashton, cf; DeShong, lf.

HULL HITS POSSIBLE AS RIFLES FINISH

Making a total score of 946, the Janesville Rifle club completed shooting in the six stage contest on Wednesday night. Hull was high marksman during the shooting on Wednesday, hitting 100 from a prone position and then 96. Albert Noit was close behind with 106.

Henry Schwegler, high school youth, was high in the last match on the second team, making two scores of 85.

The club hopes to start shooting on the outdoor range within three weeks. The scores Wednesday night were as follows:

Church, 92-90; Hart, 93-86; Hull, 100-95; Noit, 96-97; and Schwegler, 99-83.

Bull, 95-82; Clark, 91-81; Henry Schwegler, 100-90; Looftoro, 98-85; and Smith, 87-93.

BOWER CITY KNIGHTS ROLL ON THURSDAY

Toledo, O.—The pressure on the all-stars of last year's individual championship, E. F. Smith of Detroit, lived to sport extent. The interest in the A. E. C. tournament here today, Smith is on the schedule for one of the late afternoon shifts.

Richland, Ill. Gary, Ind., Oklahoma City, Janesville, Wis. and Ohio cities were scheduled on the afternoon shifts. There is still no change among the leaders.

PLANS PROGRESS FOR FACTORY BALL HERE

Conferences are being held by A. E. Bergman, physical director of the local "Y," with L. A. Mackham of the Samson Tractor company looking toward the formation of an industrial baseball league for Janesville this season. As soon as plans are outlined, announcement will be made. One group of Samson players has already made application for entrance into such a circuit. Mr. Bergman is anxious to hear from those interest-

Amateur Basket Tourney to Be Held Here by "Y"

A district meet for amateur basketball teams of Green and Rock counties will be held in Janesville next week under the auspices of the local "Y" M. C. A. Teams from Grant and DeKalb counties will battle at the Beloit "Y" at the same time. Winners of the two tourneys will clash upon a neutral floor, probably Milton college. The title winner will go to the state Y. M. C. A. meet at Milwaukee Apr. 19 and 20.

Preliminary plans for the meet were laid at a meeting at the local "Y" Wednesday morning attended by A. E. Bergman, local physical director; Physical Director Joerges of the Beloit "Y"; and Frank Sinclair, sports editor of the Gazette. Exact dates and full details will be announced later.

The Janesville R. F. C. team will enter the meet to be held here. Invitations are going out to all amateur teams of this territory.

Only 5 Men in 100 Need Ever Be Bald

—Yet 4 Men in 7 Are Bald at 40!

95% needlessly!

Science discovers falling hair due to simple infection (Sebum). Now quickly overcomes it.

Written Guarantee to Grow Hair This New Way—New Hair or No Money

This is to offer you, under absolute money-back guarantee, the new Van Ess treatment, which, under clinical tests, grew hair on 91 heads in 100. This method embodies new principles. Principles heretofore unknown to science. Now high authorities say baldness soon will be a rarity. Hair roots seldom die. The Van Ess Treatment revives them. Test it yourself at our risk.

Hair Roots Rarely Die
Records show 4 men in 7 are bald, or partially bald, at 40. Modern science proves this to be unnecessary. Proves only 5 men in 100 need ever be bald!

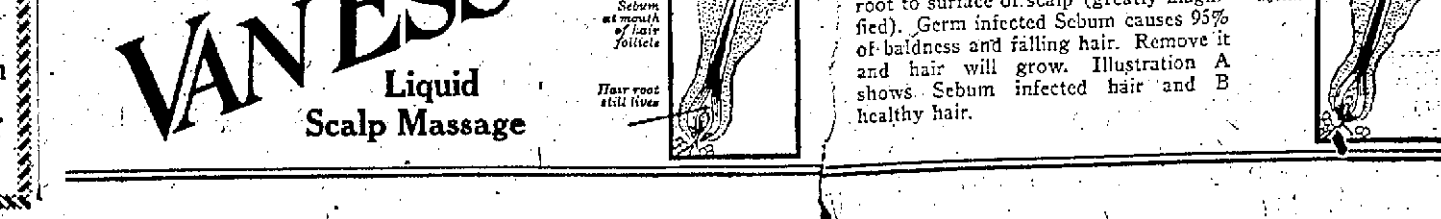

Now We Remove It
For years, science experimented to combat infected Sebum. Finally a 95% effective specific was found. Now we have embodied it in a home treatment. It is called Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage.

Remove this Sebum and hair will grow. Under the bald scalp, the hair roots live. This is true in 95% of all cases of falling hair or baldness.

Hair or No Money
We make our guarantee without reservation—with-out strings. It is absolute. We guarantee to stop falling hair in two weeks. We guarantee to grow new hair. If we fail, your money back without question.

SURE BONUS BILL WILL PASS HOUSE

But Senate May Halt It on Way Through This Session.

Washington.—The house will pass a bonus bill and the senate will shelve it for this session at least.

That's the outlook now that the house ways and means committee has received and favored the advice of the secretary of the treasury, the controller of the currency and the governor of the federal reserve board to the effect that the bonus bill would be a bad thing for the economic condition of the country. It doesn't often happen that a committee so important as the ways and means committee, a secretary of the treasury of its own making, and after listening to the exposition of the treasury's position, goes ahead in exactly the opposite direction. It doesn't often happen that a committee of the house of representatives is so completely out of touch with the public mind as to pass a bill that died in the senate and resignations are never in order unless the president himself fails to stand by a cabinet officer. In this instance, the president is squarely behind Mr. Mellon and if the senate should follow the house, a veto is certain for the bonus bill.

What the Senate Will Do.

But the senate will not know Mr. Mellon's advice. Over the bonus bill, rarely is spoken. It hangs over the senate like impending doom. Just how the senate will handle the question is not yet determined. The issue itself, it is expected to be up again in 1924, when the next presidential primaries are under way. By that time, however, some settlement will have been reached on the entire revenue program and to make special provision for a fund to pay the bonus. This revision will be attempted by means of a sales tax which Mr. Mellon now openly favors for the soldier bonus. This commitment to the principle of the sales tax comes at a time when revenue laws are not being revised, but just the same, it has a deep satisfaction to the proponents of such a tax who would have been greatly assisted a few months ago when they tried to get a presidential decision on the subject to help them substitute a sales tax for all the other kinds of taxes which finally found their way into the 1921 revenue law.

Forced in Foreground.

There's a significant bit of information, incidentally, in the statement of the representative Fordney, chairman of the house ways and means committee that he didn't expect Speaker Gillett, now in Florida, with the chief executive, to bring back an informal message to the house on the bonus question. Mr. Fordney knows the question. He and would prefer to have had them at this time. He would have had them when he visited Mr. Harding just before the latter left for Florida. The president told callers afterward that only incidentally and that he didn't outline his views to Mr. Fordney because they were already well known.

Important to Go Ahead.

This incident, together with the Fordney declaration that he isn't expecting word from the president, is generally taken to mean that the committee believed it important for the success of the republican party this fall to go ahead and pass a bonus bill in the house. There is a strong opposition to the bill in the senate, and the passage of the bill in the house would be a bad thing for the economic condition of the country.
